

Hello, Enigma World Code Group Friends,

Did you know that the Germans shared the Enigma secret with their Italian allies during World War II? It's true. Bletchley Park worked to break the Italian Enigma messages, too. Control of the Mediterranean Sea was at stake. During the first years of the war, British successes were few. The Battle of Matapan, however, was one of those few bright spots. As might be expected, Enigma played a key role in this battle. Let's see how it played-out.
